What I have done

- New cheat disabling penalty for loading of oversized trains
- Cheats are allowed only in singleplayer

How I have it done

- I have added new cheat to the cheat menu

- I have connected the cheat with the economy class

- The active cheats are reachable in global context, so it was not hard to perform check in the right part of the code

- I have added description of the cheat as language constants

Result

- My commit has been marked as rejected because that mode removes challenging part of the game

Communication

- They do not use mails for communication only IRC. They do not wish to talk in private rooms, but in publics, which is very hard for newcomer

- On forum you do not get answer from devs only from community

- It took about 3 weeks to get some reply to my issue (and I did not like the style of reply much)

- The project is active, but the community is very closed
