Popis

From my point of view will be useful that user could change slideshow direction from slideshow settings dialog. I see that same functionality is achievable when photos are sorted ascending or descending. But i personally prefer to have newest photos up in the library, but when slideshow is invoked i want to see oldest photos first.

Attaching suggested patch.

Jan,

thanks for the patch, but I think we won't take this since I don't think it's worth having an extra slideshow setting for this. I think few users will want this (nobody else has ever requested this setting), and it's pretty easy to adjust the sort order in Shotwell before starting a slideshow. Perhaps once Shotwell has plugins (#1603) you'll be able to write a plugin to add this capability without adding it to the Shotwell core.
